

My Adventure

Title of Poem

The hot burning sun steaming on my skin
Mosquitoes sick my blood

My shoes are sinking in the mushy dirty grass

While my eyes are getting stuck in sharp long pointy twigs
The flowers are drooping from last night's pouring rain

I am almost to the other side
When finally I pull one last long branch

And then I was there
My destination!